

INFORMATION FROM YOUR POSTAL AUTHORITY

We have received information from the postal authority that the Naples area has experienced a number of mail thefts from residential street side mailboxes.

It is believed the culprits travel areas looking for mailboxes with the RED FLAG raised, a sign there is outgoing mail.

Their goal is to acquire checks written to pay invoices. Which they will “wash”, alter the amount, the recipient and cash the check before the owner is aware of the theft.

Advice, at least temporarily, is to hand your outgoing mail directly to your local mailperson. If this cannot be done use a centrally located mail drop. There is one located in the Berkshire Commons shopping center.
